HEIN TO ESTABLISH NEW STORE

Severs Connection With Hein-Ornstein Company of Waukegan

ANNOUNCEMENT A SURPRISE

Hein Store Will be Located at 212 North Genesee Street Where Hein-Ornstein Used to be

While it had been rumored for some days past, not until Tuesday was official announcement made that one of Waukegan's most progressive and important business firms had dissolved, namely, Hein-Ornstein Company.

This well known firm, one which has had more marked success than any new firm which has ever gone into business in Waukegan, has dissolved and the two men, Alex. Hein and Jos. Ornstein, are no longer identified in the ladies' furnishing goods establishment, which since their start was located in the Hope block, which was recently removed to the Higley block, which was elaborately remodeled for their business. When they moved, nobody had any idea that a separation was to take place, in fact, the elaborate changes made in the new place looked as if they were to continue business together for a long time.

However, during the past week, rumors had it that Mr. Hein was to leave the firm and go into business for himself and such proved to be the case. Statements were made to secure from the firm, but finally Mr. Ornstein, through his manager, Mr. Friedman, said: "Yes, we have severed relations with Mr. Hein. His resignation as a member of our firm has been tendered and he is no longer connected with us."

The firm will continue its business in its three stores and will even open more stores; we will put even more push into the business than before and our plans for expansion will be carried on even more extensively. Mr. Friedman is secretary-treasurer and general manager of the Hein-Ornstein stores and lives at Racine. His son is the Waukegan manager.

Mr. Hein has leased the Hope store, the place formerly occupied by the Hein-Ornstein firm and he is to open a store there soon, which is to handle the same line of goods that the present Hein-Ornstein firm handles, together with a complete stock of ladies' and children's shoes.

The separation of Messrs. Hein and Ornstein comes as a big surprise in view of the unusual progress which this firm has made in the county. They started in business in Waukegan a few years ago with a very small capital and through the determined and progressive efforts of both they built up an enormous trade in their line. They gave the big impetus to extensive advertising throughout the county and they themselves and others declared that continuous advertising is what has made their business what it is today. They therefore are the strongest advocates of newspaper advertising and hold a distinction in this line.

Mr. Ornstein will continue the present store under the same plan as before. Mr. Hein will likely sell his interests in the present stores to Mr. Ornstein or somebody else, but states that he will sever all connection in a business way with the three Hein-Ornstein stores at Waukegan, Racine and Kenosha.

Mr. Ornstein now resides in Kenosha, but states that he has lately been considering moving to Waukegan and the change in partnership will hasten this step.

Mr. Hein states that he expects to have his new store open by June 1, at the latest, and is said to have left for New York Tuesday to make his purchase of supplies.

The return of Dr. Hope from the west Saturday will result in immediate work starting on the remodeling of the store which Mr. Hein is to occupy. A new front is to be put in with a newly arranged entrance.

Mr. Hein and Mr. Ornstein are both enterprising merchants and their combined efforts have been the means of establishing at Waukegan one of the largest stores in Lake County, and of drawing to that place much of the trade from the western part of the county which formerly went to Chicago. Both have many personal friends throughout the county, and no doubt each will receive his share of the liberal patronage which has heretofore been accorded to the firm of Hein-Ornstein Co.

Difference in Human Hands.

The right hand, which is more sensitive to the touch than the left, is less sensitive than the latter to the effect of heat and cold.

AFFINITY AGENT ARRESTED

Former Lake County Man Arrested in His Brown Stone Front Residence

As a forerunner to a sweeping raid on all matrimonial agencies in Chicago, federal officials Friday arrested Isaac B. Warn 833 Washington boulevard, Chicago, formerly a resident with his family at Wadsworth, Ill., on the charge of using the mails to promote a fraud. Other arrests will follow in a few days and efforts are being made to apprehend several of the "heartbrokers" who are preparing to flee from Chicago.

Warn, who is wealthy, was captured by United States Deputy Marshal Griffith, at his handsome residence on the west side. The "affinity" agent made no attempt to resist arrest and meekly accompanied the officer to the federal building, where he was arraigned immediately before Commissioner Foote. A preliminary examination was waived and his bond fixed at $5,000.

I've been running an honest business, said the prisoner, and this is only an attempt of government officials to ruin me. There is absolutely no evidence that I defrauded a single person, I have conducted my affairs honestly and I will use every cent I have to fight my case through the courts.

The Warn agency has been under investigation by Postoffice inspectors Sharon and Germer, for several months and evidence has been accumulating against the prisoner, it is said for more than a year. The business was run under the name of Kate Warn, although it was backed and operated by her husband.

The Warns some time ago moved from a humble home on Fulton, avenue to a "brownstone front" on Washington boulevard, bought by Warn for $9,500. Warn is said to have made more than $100,000 out of "affinities."

Warn refused to make any explanation of his arrest when interviewed.

His sixteen year old daughter, Hazel, and his son Stanley were heartbroken when they learned of the arrest of their father.

The girl became hysterical and the attention of physicians was necessary. Policemen who travel the beat in the neighborhood say many persons have inquired for the house and that many automobiles have stopped there at all times of the night.

INSULL RESIDENCE TO BE MARVEL OF ELECTRICITY

Samuel Insull, head of the Commonwealth Electric Company and the North Shore Electric Company, is building an electrical marvel of a residence at his farm just south of Libertyville.

All the work on the place will be done by electricity and the place is expected to be one of the show residences of the state and the entire country.

Electric wires traverse the farm in every direction and make provision for light, telephonic connection and even when necessary for application as a stimulant to the crops.

In the house there is electric light, heat and power and residents are even awakened by a system of alarms while there is a complete system of buzzers and bells for servants and wires are connected to do the cooking, baking, washing and even the lawn mowing.

One attachment will be an apparatus for toasting bread at table, another will cook coffee, boil potatoes and fry steak at the same time by electricity, another is an egg and coffee boiler and still another is a burglar alarm contrivance that will give warning in the night the instant one steps on the staircase which is a feature of the grand stairway of the house.

Men Carry the Pins.

When the tall woman entered the car it was seen that her skirt was badly torn. The glances of others caused the woman to notice the rent in her garment and she felt for a pin to hide the damage. Finding none she appealed to her next-door neighbor.

"Have you a few spare pins about you, madam?" she asked.

The woman had none, but passed the query on, and in a few moments every passenger was looking along concealed edges and turning back lapels. At last four pins were produced. All of them were contributed by men.

"We never need them as much as the women," said one of the men, "but somehow most of us carry them, and they don't."

DRINK CAUSES TRAGEDY

Martin Schleyer of Waukegan Shoots Divorced Wife Her Male Visitor

SHOOTS WITHOUT WARNING

Gives Himself Up After Long and Careful Search by Police in the Vicinity of Kenosha

Martin Schleyer shot and seriously wounded his divorced wife, Martha Schleyer, at Kenosha Sunday afternoon. He then turned the weapon upon Herman Koehler and inflicted mortal wounds. Koehler, who lives at Kenosha, was visiting Mrs. Schleyer at her home. Jealousy and drink are declared to be the cause of the shooting.

Schleyer fled after a struggle with Koehler in which he was disarmed. He took refuge in a nearby boarding house, but at 7 o'clock gave himself up to the police.

Mrs. Schleyer was shot through the abdomen and right thigh. Physicians hold out little hope of her recovery. Three shots were fired at Koehler, one of which pierced his lung and another shattered the bone in his wrist.

Schleyer is said to be a member of a well known family at Rochester, N. Y. He and his divorced wife lived in Chicago until eight years ago.

The trouble between the two Schleyers was of long standing. Last September Mrs. Schleyer was granted a divorce and the court turned over to her property valued at $10,000. On the following day Schleyer arrived in Kenosha from Portland, Ore., and at once made a demand on the court that the judgment be set aside on the grounds that he had no notice of the proceedings. The judgment was set aside, but Mrs. Schleyer retained deeds to certain property. Saturday night Schleyer met his former wife and Koehler on the street, and the police believe he at once made arrangements for the shooting. At his rooms all of his clothes were packed and ready to be sent away.

He had been drinking before he arrived at Mrs. Schleyer's home. He gave no warning to her, but immediately opened fire. The woman screamed for Koehler, who went to her rescue. A hand to hand struggle followed, in which Schleyer was disarmed. The revolver was empty when it passed into the hands of Koehler, and the hammer struck on empty cartridges when he attempted to prevent the escape of Schleyer.

THE BRONCHO IS OUT AT DEAN'S FOR THE SEASON

Charles Dean, trainer, is as nervous as a restive colt. All Palatine, where his training farm lies, shares in his interest, for an equine stork was hovering over the stall of the pacing queen, The Broncho, 2:00 3/4.

The feature is that The Broncho, pronounced by horsemen to be the greatest pacer in the world today, will be the mother of the youngster when it arrives. The Broncho is a little pacing mare for which Mr. Rochon of Winnipeg, Manitoba, paid $10,000 one year and a half ago and then saw her go a mile at Galesburg in 2:00 3/4 on a slow track and without prompter, wind shield or pacemaker, thereby setting a mark which was the sensation of the season. Charlie Dean has always contended that this performance under such conditions was equal to a mile in 1:58 3/4 or better, had the track been fast and all other conditions aiding her as they aided Dan Patch, Lou Dillon and other record establishing performers.

The Broncho also has the three fastest consecutive heat to her credit ever paced on any track in the United States or England when she set up the marks at Cleveland, O., August 8, 1903. Her times were 2:03, 2:03 3/4 and 2:02 3/4, making an average of 2:03 flat.

It is to horsemen that own Rochon has come all the way from Winnipeg to be present at the arrival of the foal of Willie Benton.

Half interest in The Broncho is owned by James Doble of Winnipeg and, through a wager, the colt becomes his property. Mr. Rochon wagered that the stock would arrive before May 1, Mr. Doble took the wager, but Mr. Rochon has not lost interest in the coming pacer, which is expected to be one of the greatest colts foaled, because of the lines to which its ancestors trace.

OPENS LOVE LETTERS

Grayslake Postmistress is Arrested on Serious Charge

MINISTER BACK OF CHARGE

Whole Village Aroused to a Pitch of Intense Excitement as Result of Serious Charge

Gossip in a church congregation, concerning the love affairs of Rev. Charles E. Havener, pastor of the Congregational church at Grayslake, and Miss Mary S. Calvin, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, has been indirectly the means leading to the arrest of Miss Anna B. Whitmore, postmistress of Grayslake.

Excitement it running high in the village and all are anxiously awaiting the outcome of an inquiry said to be in progress as to the way in which Miss Whitmore conducts the affairs of the office.

The citizens of Grayslake claim that "woman's curiosity" has been the means of placing Miss Whitmore in a curious predicament.

The claim is that she has on various occasions opened letters, merely to see what was in them. According to statements of Rev. Havener to Assistant District Attorney Shirer, and Postoffice inspector, Albert O. Swift, he and Miss Calvin have suspected the postmistress with tampering with their letters for some time, but not until some of the things that they wrote to each other for themselves alone, became the subject of village gossip did they feel justified in starting an investigation. In inspector Swift made inquiries that ended in the arrest of Miss Whitmore.

Rev. Havener, when asked about the matter would neither deny or affirm the story.

Miss Whitmore denies that she ever opened mail not her own, or that an investigation is in progress, but the affair is the common talk of the village.

I think there is a great mistake in this case, said Miss Whitmore's attorney, Mr. Churchill. We shall investigate the circumstances that led to the accusations and will be prepared to defend the case when it is called. My client bears the best of reputation in the community.

Miss Whitmore and her brother, William Whitmore through whom she secured the government job, spent Monday in Chicago. When arraigned before Commissioner Foot, Miss Whitmore's lawyer asked for a continuance to May 21, which was granted. The postmistress was released on bonds signed by relatives.

A subpoena was issued for Miss Calvin and she is expected to appear as a witness with Rev. Havener.

Years ago, when Ed Sherman was a resident of Grayslake, before he left for the west, the same charge was filed against the postmistress, but as he was suspected of being a candidate for the office she held, the charges never came to anything, although now they are being revived.

WAUCONDA LAD THE VICTIM OF AN ACCIDENT

Little Georgie Hess of Wauconda, while in company with his brother John, Roy Ham and Ray and George Taylor, was accidentally shot by a gun being picked by the latter. The patient thus far has suffered but little inconvenience, and let us hope may never. It's the old story with a new victim, and if accidents never happened to men, the remedy would be never to allow a boy to handle a gun. The records show, however, more accidents with guns in the hands of men. Would not be better if boys and men handled destroying guns less and implements of production more?

At a Chinese Funeral.

The London Saturday Journal, in describing the weird rites at a Chinese funeral, remarks that in the usual topsy turvy way of the Orient the Chinaman enjoys himself even at obsequies. The Journal adds: "The coffin is placed beside the grave and food placed upon it. A white rooster, alive or dead, is usually there, to lure the spirit of the man who has died abroad back to the home of his fathers. Whiskey and tea and a bowl of rice with chopsticks are there, so that the corpse may not starve in the next world. Gin and tea are then sprinkled over the coffin, and the bottles thrown away. The mourners stand around laughing, enjoying the fun. The coffin is lowered, candles are lit, a suit of paper clothes is burned, and some paper money. Thus the corpse is assured of clothes in the next world, and pocket money to put in them."

FINE BARGAIN FOR MR. COLE

Deal Whereby He Can More Than Double His Money.

In connection with the recent transaction wherein William Cole again acquired title of the farm which he sold to Dowie a number of years ago, some interesting facts are brought out.

Mr. Cole came back into ownership of his farm as the result of receiver Hatley deciding that Zion did not need the farm in question, that it had enough land on hand for its purposes and that although Mr. Cole would profit greatly by giving it back to him, that was the better way out of the difficulty.

By the deal Mr. Cole made the farm.

When Dowie bought the farm he paid as the first payment almost what the farm was worth and gave a mortgage for the rest of the payments. The mortgage was never lifted and Mr. Cole has carried it ever since, getting more or less interest in the meantime.

However, Receiver Hatley some time ago decided he did not need the property and as he no longer cared to pay the interest and had no idea of lifting the mortgage, he informed Mr. Cole that he wished he would foreclose.

Mr. Cole was glad to do so, because by so doing he was to get back his farm and have as profit all that Dowie had paid on it, including years of interest.

The transaction was thus made and now Mr. Cole is to subdivide the property and sell it in lots. By it he will more than double what the property was originally worth.

As one man recently remarked in speaking of Zion, Dowie, et al; One thing about it, Dowie made many persons rich, mostly Lake County farmers, but he also made many persons poor, and the latter class would probably far out number the former.

MUCH MARRIED WOMAN MADE HAPPY AGAIN

Mrs. Grace Snell-Coffin-Coffin-Walker-Coffin-Layman-Love, formerly of Antioch, has withdrawn her sixth divorce suit and a reconciliation with H. M. Love, secretary of the Los Angeles board of health, the latest of her long string of husbands, has been effected. Her attorneys have filed notice of dismissal of the suit. Mr. Love is delighted and says that life is once more one sweet song. Mrs. Love is a daughter of A. J. Snell a Chicago capitalist who was mysteriously murdered years ago. She married Frank Nixon Coffin three times, James C. Walker and Perkins A. Layman, hotel clerks, once each before marrying Love.

RECEIVERSHIP TO END IN JUNE

May 15 Receiver Hatley will leave Zion City for a six week's trip abroad and reports that the receivership will end at that time are stated to be without foundation as it will take until the time of his return to finish the receivership reports.

The Zion printing works will close their doors forever May 15, it is said, as the proposition is not and has not been a paying one and it is a necessary measure of economy to close. Manager Wilson will return to Milwaukee.

SOCIAL LAW THAT IS ADAMANT.

Impossible to Be Absent-Minded and Make a Success.

There are some rules for social success that it is wholly impossible to ignore nowadays.

It is the fashion to say everyone is bad-mannered, and, alas, it is quite possible to be atrociously rude in some ways, and yet be popular, but there are one or two things one cannot do with any hope of achieving social distinction or even being merely tolerated. These things are hidden, however, from those who fondly imagine they can imitate all the faults of society with impunity.

It is the infringement or ignorance of these esoteric by-laws which betray the "outsider." One such decree, for example, is that in no circumstances whatever is absent-mindedness permissible. One may leave notes unanswered, but one must not be absent-minded. This is a distinction with a difference.

Bees in a Church.

For more than 20 years a swarm of bees has been in the roof of the nave of field (Eng.) Parish church.

They have lately abused the hospitality shown them by coming inside the building and even stinging a member of the choir as well as annoying the vicar while he was in the pulpit. A week ago they entered the church in hundreds and their dead bodies covered the floor.

A bee expert has since been called in and after removing a portion of the roof he succeeded in carrying off the whole colony in a hive. The vicar said, "I part with them without regret."

HATCHERY SITE IS SELECTED

Commissioner Cohen and Others Adopt Measures For Construction

TO BE BEST ON THE LAKES

Whitefish Eggs to be Shipped in From Detroit, While Trout Eggs Will be Obtained at Waukegan

The site for the Illinois State Fishery, as designed by State Commissioner Samuel Cohen, of Havana, Ill., has been established.

Commissioner Cohen, accompanied by Aldermen David Q. Hart and John Morrow, Capt. Richard Smith and others visited the site offered by the government. Laid out the plot and adopted measures for the immediate construction of the hatchery building.

The sight as offered by the United States government lies at the northeast corner of the government land on the old island. Adjoining this site is the E. J. & E. property which also has a lake frontage.

The site lies north of the north pier about 500 feet with a water frontage. The site acquired measures 200 feet in length and about 250 feet in width.

Commissioner Cohen, armed with a petition signed by the mayor and city officials of Waukegan, met with Major Judson of the Milwaukee division to make arrangements with the government for the use of the old hotel buildings which at present lie near the proposed site. These buildings were last used by the government inspectors and officials of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Company at the time of the building of the breakwater.

At the next meeting of the Illinois legislature in January, Mr. Cohen will seek the passage of a bill appropriating a large sum for the construction of an up-to-date hostelry at Waukegan.

At present, while Mr. Cohen has backing enough to erect the proposed site, further funds will be needed to make the hatchery the best on the lakes as it is hoped it will be when completed.

If the government refuses to lease out the buildings now constructed on the island, the building of a temporary structure will start immediately.

A cheap structure will be erected. Later after the passage of the appropriation bill, a more modern structure will be established.

Commissioner Cohen announces that three men will be placed at the station. One man will have charge of the work during the day and at night the second man will have charge. The third man will be used as an assistant.

Whitefish eggs by the billions will be shipped to the local station from the government hatchery at Detroit. The scarcity of whitefish in these regions makes this move an essential one.

The trout eggs will be obtained from the local fishermen inasmuch as millions of these eggs have been thrown on the rubbish pile in the past years.

The whitefish and trout eggs will be the only fresh water eggs to be hatched at this port.

Large tin pans and glass jars will be used in connection with the hatching of the fish. The spawn obtained from the male and female fish will be separated and later mixed in these pans and jars. Experts will have complete charge of the local station.

DOUBLE TIME

"Make every minute count," said a successful business man, "and you will succeed." Make your minutes count double. Let your telephone travel for you—while you attend to business in your office or store. Long distance telephone lines. Economy. Chicago Telephone Co.

To Keep Flies Outside.

For those who object to wire netting in the windows during the summer, a new idea has been found to prevent flies and such annoying pests from entering the house. This new preventative is a window-box of mignonette. It seems that the insects do not care to face the odor of this charming flower, so that it is an effectual barrier against their invasion. It sounds like a very pretty idea, and we may expect to see ugly wire screens entirely discarded and the windows decorated with dainty boxes filled with the sweet blossoms.

Mr. Barnes, American

Mr. Barnes of New York

Author of "Mr. Barnes of New York,"
"Mr. Potter of Texas,"
"That Frenchman," Etc.

SYNOPSIS.

Burton H. Barnes, a wealthy American touring Corsica, rescues the young English lieutenant, Edward Gerard Anstruther, and his Corsican bride, Marina, daughter of the Paolis, from the murderous vendetta, understanding that his reward is to be the hand of the girl he loves. Enid Anstruther, sister of the English lieutenant, the four fly from Ajaccio to Marseilles on board the French steamer Constantine. The vendetta pursues and as the quartet are about to board the train for London at Marseilles, Marina is handed a mysterious note which causes her to collapse and necessitates a postponement of the journey. Barnes and Enid are married. Soon after their wedding Barnes' bride disappears. Barnes discovers she has been kidnapped and taken to Corsica. The groom secures a fishing vessel and is about to start in pursuit of his bride's captors when he hears a scream from the villa and rushes back to hear that Anstruther's wife, Marina, is also missing. Barnes is compelled to depart for Corsica without delay, and so he leaves the search for Marina to her husband while he goes to hunt for Enid. Just before Barnes' boat lands on Corsica's shore Marina is discovered hiding in the corner of the vessel. She explains her action by saying she has come to help Barnes rescue her from the Corsicans. When Barnes and Marina arrive in Corsica he is given a note written by Enid informing him that the kidnapping is for the purpose of entrapping Barnes so the vendetta may kill him. Barnes and Marina have unusual adventures in their search for Enid. They come in sight of her and her captors in the Corsican mountain wilds just as night approaches. Barnes and Marina storm the couple enter a hermitage and there to their amazement they discover Tomasso, the foster father of Marina, who was supposed to have been killed by De Belloc's soldiers, and for whose death Barnes had been vendettized. Tomasso Barnes' husband did not kill him. He kills his brother. Many wrongs are righted. Barnes is surprised in the hermitage by Rochini and Ruggles, the two bandit leaders. They come to Barnes to demand a ransom for Enid. Barnes dares out the door. The bandits start to pursue, but as they reach the door both are laid low by Barnes' revolver. Members of the Bellacoscia and Barnes is honored for his great service to the community in killing the hated Rochini and Ruggles. Enid is promised. Barnes is conveyed in triumph to Bocognano. Marina acquiesces the Bellacoscia with Salicetti's plot against her husband and the people are instructed to vote against him at the coming election. Barnes is taken to the mansion of the Paolis to meet Enid. Marina receives a telegram.

CHAPTER XIV.—Continued.

They are soon at the doors of the country house, which are being thrown open by some of Marina's old servants. The great bandit bows and says laughingly:

"You seem to be in a hurry, Signora. Your meeting with your abducted bride should be a private one. I do not wonder at your eagerness." Barnes has already turned to the house. "My young men who conducted your lady from Salicetti's tell me she is of most marvelous beauty, though somewhat overcome by fatigue and anxiety for you and bashfulness. We take our leave, deadly pistol shot, but will watch over you and your spouse to see that no harm comes to you."

Then, it being whispered that the enraged Salicetti has notified the gendarmes by telegram that the Bellacoscia have come down from the mountain, the illustrious bandit and his followers silently disappear in the shadows of the night.

During these words Mrs. Anstruther has hurriedly gone into her house. Barnes now, with the eagerness of happy love upon his face, runs up onto the veranda and steps into the hallway.

Here he is met by Marina. "Don't be too impatient," she observes, smiling slightly. "I haven't seen your wife, but she is upstairs in her chamber, the great front room on the second floor. Though perfectly well, my servants say, she is worn out by the constant excitement and anxiety of the last 24 hours."

"Yes, I can understand that. The front room on the second floor, you said," whispers Burton, and turns to spring up the great oaken stairway to the upper story.

"You are in a great hurry," says Marina, laying a light hand upon his arm. "You will hardly be coming down for some little time and in two minutes I shall be on my way to Bastia, so I will have to bid you good-by now."

"To Bastia?" queries Barnes, turning to her, astonishment in his face.

"Yes, I shall see my husband to-morrow morning," she remarks, in joyous excitement. "Here is a telegram from Edwin telling me he will be in Bastia by noon. I must meet him there. Everything in the house is yours, dear Burton. I know you will be as happy here with your bride, as I shall be with my husband. Ah, Tomasso is already at the door."

For at this moment there is a noise of wheels and hoofs upon the avenue.

"Better wait for the diligence to-morrow," dissents Barnes.

"No, Tomasso shall drive me to ward Bastia through the night. Besides, going by the diligence, at the post-stations there will be gendarmes, and my foster father is still a fugitive. It will be best that Edwin and I take him out of Corsica entirely. I have given orders to my servants—make this place your home as long as you like." She has already stepped out upon the porch.

"You had better see Enid first," remarks Burton, following her.

"No, I think not. Your interview should be before mine and I haven't time. The drive to Bastia is so long," Barnes, hurriedly puts her into the vehicle. "May you be happy as I am," she calls to him, and the young Corsican wife is driven rapidly down the great avenue of chestnut trees, Tomasso being, apparently, also eager to leave the gendarmes that have hunted him over the mountains.

CHAPTER XV.

A Little Surprise for Mr. Barnes. The American springs up the steps into the house again, and rapidly ascending the stairway to the second floor, sees a very faint gleam of light shining under the doorway of the great guest chamber in the front of the old Corsican mansion.

He knocks almost reverently and a faint, sweet voice answers timidly: "Come in."

His heart lighted by hope and love, his whole form trembling with anxiety to take his bride within his arms, the thought that she is his and safe making his flashing eyes very tender, the eager bridegroom opens the door.

Reclining on a lounge in a white robe her head bashfully turned from him, the long, beautiful, almost disheveled hair streaming over her shoulders, is his rescued bride.

She is in a nook of the big room well from the faint candle light.

He passes an arm about her slender waist and kisses her passionately. Her lips respond as sweetly and clingingly as ever did those of a young bride.

But even in the midst of the kiss, Barnes starts back with a sharp, amazed cry of almost horror: "My God, Sally Blackwood!"

And the lady turning to him so that the candle light shines upon her radiant features that are almost laughing,

"Very well," says Barnes, "I thank you for the information. I will now see that you get out of Corsica safely."

"How?"

"My friend, the great Bellacoscia, will do it for me."

"The great bandit! He will take me from Corsica? Diable, the magnificent bandit—that would be an adventure," laughs the volatile lady airily. "The ferocious bandit I have read of! This Bellacoscia who kills gendarmes as if they were flies! That's greater than even a pork packer, a cattle man or a Count Danella, isn't it? I thank you for the bandit, Mr. Barnes."

Barnes runs down the stairs and steps out upon the porch.

A happy-faced young man with elated air and dust-covered clothes is spurring hastily up the avenue, a native boy trotting beside him. Seeing the American, he calls out: "Glad to hear you and Enid are again yard-arm to yardarm; though you look love-sick enough, Barnes of New York."

Awaking with a start, Burton looks at him and gasps, "Edwin, you here?"

"Easy enough. I found a letter left with Lady Charris' housekeeper by my wife to be delivered to me this morning, which told me Marina had come to Bocognano. So I rushed into Nice. By good luck I found Alingham's yacht was coming straight to Ajaccio. For my sake he put on steam. I made the 25 miles up here from the Corsican capital on a horse, arriving before they extinguished the lights in the inn. There they told me of my noble wife and how Marina's words had banished our vendetta from Bocognano."

STIRRED UP NEW YORKERS.

Veteran Drove "Prairie Schooner" With Oxen Through City Streets.

New York—A team of oxen drawing a "prairie schooner," the driver of which was a rugged looking old man who wore typical western garb, including a sombrero, attracted great crowds on Broadway.

The vehicle and driver were not only in striking contrast with the jam of automobiles and carriages on the "Great White Way," but they were a decidedly novelty in New York.

The driver was Ezra Meeker, a pioneer of the Oregon trail, who had returned over the trail he followed to the west half a century ago. All along Riverside, from Grant's tomb to Serenity-second street, Meeker was followed by an interested and curious throng.

When Broadway was reached the crowd was so dense that the oxen, which the hale old man afterward described as Dave and Dandy, had a hard time to make any headway. Meeker's trip ended at last at the Battery. He had come all the way from Puyallup, Wash., to New York in 626 days.

Meeker's object in making his unique journey is to persuade the government to build a national highway from east to west.

Modern Turpentine Gathering.

Twenty million turpentine cups are used in the pine forests of the south to catch the flow of resin from the trees, and 7,000,000 or 8,000,000 are added each year. These simple-looking cups, which are not unlike flower-pots in size and shape, indicate a rapid and highly important change in the American method of gathering turpentine, due to the need of economy in using all forest products and to the application of science in an old-fashioned industry.

Breezy Gossip, Notes and Doings of Interest at Springfield.

Springfield.—Coaxed by Chairman Hill of the institution investigating committee, the solons by a vote of 88 to 14 adopted the report of the inquisitors, assailing the institutions. This was done after Hill and others had protested that they were friends of civil service, and that the committee would be turned into a "farce" if the report were not accepted. More cries betokening pleasure were heard from the Democrats, who, by this, votes are given exactly what they have been looking for from the Hill committee—namely, a document that they can use in the next campaign, and which bears the stamp of the legislature.

The senate by a vote of 27 to 9 passed the revenue bills reducing the ratio of assessment from one-fifth of the actual cash value to one-third, and decreasing the limit of taxation from one-fifth of the assessed value of property to one-third of the assessed value.

The senate adopted a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of seven to investigate the state institutions and report if any changes in their management is necessary, and if so report out a bill to that effect at the session of the next general assembly.

Plan Meeting for May 22.

May 22, Speaker Shurtliff says, enough house members will be on hand to pass a few appropriation bills. If the senate meanwhile has taken action on the amendment to the sine die resolution. Otherwise they will stay at home, and the legislature will linger along until perhaps the governor will have put it out by proroguing. But the appropriation bills are expected to be magnet enough to pull back both senators and representatives for a few hours at least. Among the last acts of the house was the passage of a bill which gives Mayor Busse of Chicago another position to fill on the board of local improvements. As at present organized the board consists of five members, one of which is the secretary of the board. The bill removes the secretary as a member, and leaves the number of commissioners at five, so the mayor will have another appointment at his disposal. The bill has passed the senate. The bond bills are supposed to be in a hopeless condition. The house refuses to take any action on them, and David Shanahan, into whose hands they were given, asserts that it will be impossible to get them through the house.

Mothers Elect Mrs. Bright.

Illinois mothers in the closing session of their annual congress endorsed the resolution offered by Mrs. Alfred Bayliss of Macomb favoring the establishment of manual or industrial training in the public schools. An invitation from Macomb to meet there next year was accepted by the congress. Officers were chosen as follows:

President—Mrs. Orville T. Bright, Chicago.

Vice-presidents—Mrs. Samuel Bradt, Pekin; Mrs. S. J. Scott, Chicago; Mrs. L. K. Gilbert, Wilmette.

Recording secretary—Mrs. W. S. Blodgett, Chicago.

Corresponding secretary—Mrs. W. K. Browne, Englewood.

Treasurer—Mrs. L. D. Doty, Chicago.

Auditor—Mrs. Samuel Salter, Chicago.

An eloquent appeal to women to refrain from using the plumage of birds upon their hats and bonnets was made by Mrs. P. S. Peterson of Chicago.

Mrs. Hall, chairman of the press committee, gave the report of the West End Mothers' club, Chicago. She told of the studies along the line of household economies and recommended every club in the state to take up similar studies.

Francis Blair Speaks.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis G. Blair spoke to the assembled Mothers' clubs of Jacksonville. He later addressed the students of Illinois college. Assistant Superintendent U. G. Hoffman went to Toledo, Cumberland county, to confer with the county superintendent. He was at Newton, Jasper county, and spoke to a gathering of teachers and parents at Noble, Richland county. The following day he held a conference at Robinson with the superintendent of Crawford county.

Judge Hinebaugh is Speaker.

The annual address of Judge William H. Hinebaugh of LaSalle county, president of the association and a paper on "The Jurisdiction of the County Court," by Judge David T. Smiley of McHenry county, which was discussed, constituted the proceedings of the tenth annual convention of the County and Probate Judges' association of Illinois which was held in this city.

Finish Balloon at Capitol.

A monster balloon constructed by C. L. Bumbaugh of St. Louis, the largest ever built in this country, will make its initial flight from the state fair grounds in this city. The St. Louis aeronaut completed arrangements with Secretary J. K. Dickinson of the Illinois state board of agriculture for the finishing up of the balloon in the dome building on the fair grounds. Mr. Bumbaugh was anxious to secure the building, as it is the only structure in this part of the country suited for the purpose.

"Drys" Name Two for Each Office.

After an animated discussion the state prohibition convention, by a large majority, decided to place on the state primary ticket to be voted on August 8 two names for each state office. The following names were decided upon to compose the ticket:

Governor—Daniel R. Sheen, Peoria, and E. W. Chaffin, Chicago.

Lieutenant Governor—J. W. Brubaker, Chicago, and Jacob Hostittler, Sterling.

Secretary of State—H. A. Dubois, Cobden, and Marion Gallup, Pontiac.

Attorney General—Frank S. Regan, Rockford, and M. C. Harper, Evanston.

Treasurer—A. S. Spaulding, Springfield, and L. A. Chamberlain, Pittsfield.

The platform adopted demands that congress pass a law prohibiting the interstate commerce in intoxicating liquors, favoring a postal savings bank, the deep-water way, revision of the tariff against trust-made goods and many other measures. Alonzo Wilson of Wheaton was elected chairman of the state central committee and F. F. Gumbart of Macomb re-elected secretary. The new state central committee was elected as follows:

George G. Pendell, W. A. Brubaker, Mrs. Emil Hill, S. S. Williams, John Whitson, J. A. Ruth, Leo F. Jeannene, C. R. Jones, E. A. Wilson, Chicago; F. S. Regan, Rockford; J. H. Commett, Erie; L. F. Gumbart, Macomb; J. A. Hoops, Inava; Daniel R. Sheen, Peoria; John F. Sheppard, El Paso; G. W. Wolsey, Danville, A. M. Caldwell, Champaign; L. E. Chamberlain, Pittsfield.

Robert M. Patton of Springfield was elected chairman of the convention, John E. Golden of Ford county secretary, and L. F. Gumbart of McDonough county treasurer. Chairman Patton in his speech said that the two great political parties had by their platform become the allies of the United Societies of Chicago. The following delegates-at-large and alternates-at-large to the national convention were elected:

Delegates-at-large—Robert H. Patton of Springfield, Alonzo E. Wilson of Wheaton, Daniel R. Sheen of Peoria, Oliver T. Stewart of Peoria, E. W. Chaffin of Chicago, and C. B. James of Chicago. Alternates-at-large—W. P. Allen of McLean, John R. Golden of Gibson City, J. H. Hofstetter of Sterling, Mrs. Emily Hill of Springfield, L. A. Chamberlain of Pittsfield, E. W. Brubaker of Chicago.

Charity Bulletin Out.

Copious quotations from the Illinois Medical Journal which offers a defense of the state board of charities in its April number and also from the February number of the Journal of the American Medical Association constitute a large part of the quarterly bulletin of the Illinois board of charities. An address on the work of the board made by the secretary, William C. Graves, before the Physicians' club and the Chicago Medical society is reprinted in full. Other articles include one on civil service by W. B. Moulton, reprinted from the May number of the Illinois Medical Journal, and a defense of methods at the Lincoln asylum by Dr. W. H. C. Smith. Dr. V. H. Podstata, superintendent of the Illinois Northern Hospital for the Insane at Elgin, also has an article describing the methods in vogue at that institution.

Temperature Exceptionally Low.

Cloudy weather, with unusually low temperature prevailed in Illinois, according to the report issued by Acting Director Clarence J. Root. Killing frosts and considerable damage from winds is reported from various districts. A general summary of conditions follows: Cloudy weather, with unusually low temperature for the season, prevailed, the temperature deficiency averaging 13 degrees. Freezing temperatures and lower occurred on the thirtieth and second in the northern and portions of the central district. Frosts, killing at many stations, were general on these dates in the northern and central counties. Considerable damage was reported. The temperature extremes were 69 degrees and 20 degrees. The rainfall averaged 0.72 inch. It was deficient in the northern part of the state, but was above the normal in most of the central and southern parts, the greater amount in the section occurred on the third and morning of the fourth. Snow flurries and sleet were reported in the northern and central districts in the early part of the week. The sunshine was deficient, the average for the state being 36 per cent.

Mayors Discuss Legislation.

Executives of 50 cities in Illinois assembled in Springfield and discussed methods of bringing about the passage of various bills before the general assembly. The measures that were drafted at a former meeting in Chicago were approved and later the mayors went before the general assembly to ask their passage. Comptroller Walter H. Wilson of Chicago presided at the session which was in the council chamber in the city hall. Mayor E. C. Finch of Aurora was named secretary.

And Just After Its Mistress Had Made Neat "Bluff."

Young Hankinson (making a call)—You have had that parrot a long time, Miss Laura.

Miss Laura—Yes, we have had him several years.

Young Hankinson—Quite intelligent, is he not?

Miss Laura—Very. Can imitate almost anything.

Young Hankinson—They have a remarkably clever parrot over at the Casterlins', Miss Laura. It can imitate the sound of a kiss to perfection. Is that among the accomplishments of our feathered friend here in the corner?

Miss Laura (indignantly)—No, sir. He does not attempt an imitation of a sound he is not accustomed to hear, Mr. Hankinson. Of that I can assure you.

The Parrot—Walt, George, dear, till I take this bird out of the room.—Tatter.

BOY KEPT SCRATCHING.

Eczema Lasted 7 Years—Face Was All Raw—Skin Specialist Failed, But Cuticura Effected Cure.

"When my little boy was six weeks old an eruption broke out on his face. I took him to a doctor, but his face kept on getting worse until it got so bad that no one could look at him. His whole face was one crust and must have been very painful. He scratched day and night until his face was raw. Then I took him to all the best specialists in skin diseases but they could not do much for him. The eczema got on his arms and legs and we could not get a night's sleep in months. I got a set of Cuticura Remedies and he felt relieved the first time I used them. I gave the Cuticura Remedies a good trial and gradually the eczema healed all up. He is now seven years old and I think the trouble will never return. Mrs. John G. Klumpp, 80 Niagara St., Newark, N. J., Oct. 17 and 22, 1907."

GOES FAR TO SOLVE PROBLEM.

Suitable and Pretty Costume for the Very Young Lady.

Dresses for the younger members of the family are always rather a problem, for although their wearers are quite as much alive to any fault in taste as are their parents, yet these garments have to bear the strain of tremendous wear and tear.

The new ball dress of the grown-up sister has nothing to face but a two-step. It would soon cease to be made of tulle and chiffon if it had to undergo the excitements of hide-and-seek, cat and mouse or blind man's buff. In the same way the house dress that is worn during domestic occupations, such as arranging flowers, is not nearly so liable to be spilt as the school frock whose owner is just at the age when a single drop of ink is sufficient to smudge the face, hands and garments, and is also at the time of life which, above all things, detests aprons.

A very useful style for these difficult ages is the pinafore, now varied by the kimono. It consists of a loose blouse with a low, square-cut yoke and loose sleeves. The square top, the skirt and the sleeves are all edged with a pretty band of silk or velvet in a darker shade of the material matching the waist band, and it is worn over a blouse of white or some lighter color. This gives an appearance of brightness and smartness, and allows the dress to be of a dark and durable color and material.

It also has the advantage that old blouses which have worn under the arms can be worn with it. The prettiest mode for the skirt is to have it arranged in flat pleats, stitched for a few inches below the waist. The fullness on the top of the arms can be drawn into tucks arranged in just the same way.

Never use on the face a wash rag which is not scalded each day.

It is very bad taste to place beautiful jewelry upon neglected fingers.

Do not think that scrubbing will injure your complexion, for it will not.

IN HONGKONG--DINING WITH CHINESE SWELLDOM

The Funny Things One Sees

in Smiling Round the World

By MARSHALL P. WILDER

(Copyright, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

Hongkong is a wonderful city, constructed on a hillside, with a fine series of walks winding in and out about the Peak.

When Great Britain grabs a piece of real estate she generally displays good taste. Hongkong is as handsome a one as could be found anywhere for the purpose of showing off a city.

In a suburban tramcar in London that I got into the seats were all full but one very vacant place. Man, very drunk, hanging to a strap, tries to sit down.

Another man, not relishing a beery companion, spreads himself all over the seat. The "jag" steadies himself, pulls himself together and asks sobriety to "move up." Sobriety refuses.

"You're drunk!" says sobriety.

"That's right!" replied the "jag," with some difficulty, "I'm—hic—drunk, but I'll get over it. You're a—hic—hog, and you'll never get over it."

The houses and buildings on the Peak were all built from material carried up by coolies, a great number of them women. They receive such pitiful wages that it is cheaper to have them carry it up than to send it up by the tram.

When Great Britain and China fell to fighting over the opium trade China got the worst of it and the English got Hongkong. They immediately proceeded to reconstruct it according to approved English methods. They even gave it an English name—Victoria—by which it is known in government circles, but the good old Chinese name is preferred by the masses, even English ship captains who abound in the port giving the royal name the go-by. In methods, customs and sentiment Hongkong is thoroughly English, although there are enough resident Germans to support a very fine club.

Americans are greatly in the minority in Hongkong and incline to keep to themselves for many reasons.

To American people who contemplate a visit to the far east a word of warning in regard to Hongkong will not be amiss, for, while it may not help matters, they would at least in some measure be prepared for the hold-up they will encounter there.

In the first place, no more unwelcome visitor can go to Hongkong than an American, and he is looked upon as fair game.

The Hongkong hotel is without exception the worst in the east and charges the most exorbitant prices. The only thing lacking in the make-up of these prices is a black mask and a pistol.

The manager of the hotel, recently a steward on one of the P. & O. steamers, acknowledges that the hotel was a failure until about four years ago, when the opening of the Philippines boomed business for them to the extent that there has not been a vacant room since, yet, in spite of this, Americans are unwelcome, and are treated with scant courtesy.

A feature of the town are the sedan chairs. There are no horses, with the exception of polo ponies that are never driven, driving being impossible up and down the dizzy slopes of the Peak. It is just as much out of the question for rikshas, so they are only used in the level part of the city along the water front. There is also an electric trolley that runs through this part of the town. The chairs, however, reign supreme on the mountain. They are very comfortable, for the most part like rattan armchairs, with carrying poles laid on the shoulders of two, or four, stout coolies. It is really very pleasant to go swaying along, up and down steps as easily as on the sloping path.

We were so fortunate as to see something of the minor social life of the Chinese through the courtesy of Mr. Thomas McArran of Hongkong, who introduced me to Mr. Wei Yuk, a prominent and wealthy banker and one of the two Chinese members of the English board of governors of Hongkong. Mr. McArran very kindly took me to call on the banker, and that evening a coolie brought a beautifully engraved invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Wei Yuk requesting the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. W. company at dinner the next evening. Of course we accepted, as it was a rare opportunity to see the real thing in Chinese swelldom. It was a beautiful affair, and I look upon it as one of the most interesting episodes I have the pleasure of remembering. Of course we put on our best bib and tucker, and were carried in chairs on coolies' shoulders up the steep Peak—the fashionable residential part of the city—to Mr. Wei Yuk's handsome marble residence (to say palace would be no misnomer) which is called Braeside. The explanation for this name is that Mr. Wei Yuk learned his English (which he speaks exquisitely) in Edinburgh, at whose university he was graduated, being the first Chinese child ever sent out of China to be educated. His house was very English in its appointments, and there were truly Chinese apartments, but we saw only the drawing room and dining room, which were very English indeed. There were present, besides the host and hostess, their two daughters, two sons, a niece, Mrs. Wei Yuk's brother and brother-in-law, and a few English and Americans. Mrs. Wei Yuk spoke no English, but was very gracious and charming and entirely without the reserve I expected to find in a native Chinese. Mr. McArran told me she was an example of the very highest type of Chinese lady. She was a large woman, tall and stout, and her feet, about four inches long and two wide, were encased in little satin shoes of a color that ladies would call carise, and embroidered and sewn with seed pearls. I will endeavor to make my description of the rest of her costume intelligible to my lady readers, that is:

She wore as a principal garment a long jacket of plum-colored brocade, beautifully embroidered about the edges, over wide trousers of black satin with an embroidered blue band at the hem. Her jacket was fastened with buttons of carved pink coral that would have made an American girl jump out of her shoes to possess. Her headdress was the usual black satin cap worn by Chinese married women of every class, Marie Stuart in shape, without a crown, just a band, curving to fit the head, her beautiful hair neatly coiled round and round. This cap is generally ornamented with jade and pearls. Our hostess had the usual ornaments, but beautifully carved and set with whole pearls. Beside these there was pinned in front a diamond sunburst much bigger than the lady's little fist, and atop of the rising sun an enormous emerald larger than a nickel, surrounded by diamonds. Her earrings were diamond solitaires as big as marrowfat peas, with long pendants of jade. Her hands were covered with rings—circles of pearls and diamonds. In short, the lady was what one might call an Oriental flashlight.

Her married daughter and little daughter 11 years old were both in pink brocade, with gorgeous pearl ornaments and earrings.

Her niece was in white brocade, with ornaments of diamonds and jade.

Her brother-in-law is one of the few millionaires in China, and made his fortune in flour. Her brother, a very much Europeanized Chinaman, being a graduate of Oxford, had just returned from England, where he had been since a child. He was truly British—clothes, accent, and all; even his cue cut off. He carried on a conversation between us and our hostess, interpreting for the trio.

The table was beautifully decorated. Instead of a center piece, there were two dozen or more small silver vases scattered over the table, filled with flowers. The service was certainly all that could be desired, a Chinese servant in blue linen gown standing behind every chair.

The dinner was modified Chinese, and very good; with very few exceptions the dishes were most palatable to western taste, and several, such as roast beef and fruit salad, were distinctly European.

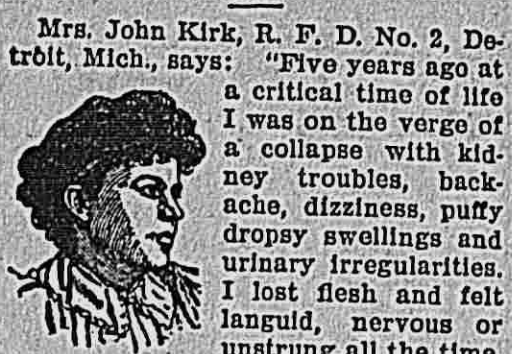

It was a novel and interesting affair and the glimpse at Chinese family life, an opportunity much appreciated by us.

Eyes of Deep-Sea Fish.

"Few people know that when deep-sea fish are taken from the water their eyes pop from their heads," said E. B. Wynn of Mobile. "This is due to being relieved of the tremendous water pressure and coming in contact with air. On the gulf coast, where thousands of fish are caught daily, one can see hundreds and hundreds of deep-water fish with eyes bulging from their sockets."

AT A CRITICAL TIME.

Women Are Likely to Suffer with Dangerous Kidney Disorders.

Mrs. John Kirk, R. F. D. No. 2, Detroit, Mich., says: "Five years ago at a critical time of life I was on the verge of a collapse with kidney troubles, backache, dizziness, puffy dropsy swellings and urinary irregularities. I lost flesh and felt languid, nervous or unstrung all the time.

As my doctor did not help me I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. In a few weeks all these symptoms left me. I now weigh 163 pounds and feel in excellent health."

Ready to Pay Fine.

"I know where $3,000,000 in cash lies concealed," said a New York lawyer. "This vast sum lies concealed in the inside vest pocket of the 30,000 automobilists of New York state. Each man carries $100 of it in one crisp note, ready to be paid out in a fine, if he should be arrested for speeding. Fines, though, don't appear to stop speeding," he continued. "Perhaps the rich automobilist regards them much as the Suabian wood thief did. The thief was arrested. The magistrate said to him: 'You are brought up on the charge of stealing wood. This charge has been proved against you. But you are old and poor and you shall be let off this time. Only don't do it again.' 'Nonsense!' retorted the thief. 'Let us not have any false sentimentality here. I steal my wood, I pay my fine, and there's an end of it.'"

You Would Not Accept Counterfeit Money, Why Accept Counterfeit Goods?

Good money is made by the Government in which you have implicit faith and confidence. Good goods are made by manufacturers who are willing to stake their reputations on the quality of the material offered to you through the medium of their advertisements in this paper. Counterfeit goods are not advertised. The reason for it is they will not bear the close scrutiny to which genuine advertised goods are subjected. Counterfeit money pays more profit to the counterfeiter. Counterfeit goods are offered to you for the same reason.

Insist on the Genuine—Reject the Counterfeit.

Willing to Be Convinced.

A sturdy tramp one day went into a suburban garden, where the lady of the house was engaged in attending to the flowers. He took no notice of her refusal to give coppers, but continued his importunity until a bull dog appeared, growling ominously. The lady seized it by the collar and held it, calling out:

"You had better go away at once; he may bite you."

"You ain't got no right to keep a savage dog like that," replied the tramp in outraged tones.

"Perhaps I have not," was the cool answer. "If you think so, I won't keep him—I'll let him go."

The latch of the gate clicked violently, and in 20 seconds that tramp had vanished into space.—Stray Stories.

CAUSE FOR HIS HURRY.

"Ah, I love to see a little boy in such a hurry to get to school!"

"Yes, sir. My little brother's got de measles, an' I'm hurrying up to get excused!"

CHANGE IN FOOD

Works Wonders in Health.

It is worth knowing that a change in food can cure dyspepsia. "I deem it my duty to let you know how Grape-Nuts food has cured me of indigestion."

"I had been troubled with it for years, until last year my doctor recommended Grape-Nuts food to be used every morning. I followed instructions and now I am entirely well."

"The whole family like Grape-Nuts, we use four packages a week. You are welcome to use this testimonial as you see fit."

The reason this lady was helped by the use of Grape-Nuts food, is that it is predigested by natural processes and therefore does not tax the stomach as the food she had been using; it also contains the elements required for building up the nervous system. If that part of the human body is in perfect working order, there can be no dyspepsia, for nervous energy represents the steam that drives the engine.

When the nervous system is run down, the machinery of the body works badly. Grape-Nuts food can be used by small children as well as adults. It is perfectly cooked and ready for instant use.

DESERVED TO WIN HIS CASE.

Really Able Argument Put Forward by Accused Sailor.

A very good story has recently been told in the fleet of an incident which happened when Admiral Evans was in command of the Indiana. An old-time bluejacket was at the mast before Capt. Evans, charged with getting food out of a mess chest outside of meal hours. This getting of food for night watches is a common and strong desire on the part of most men aboard ship.

Capt. Evans asked the man what he had to say; and the man, sizing up the delicate situation, said:

"Captain, I didn't take no food out of that chest. Why, captain, there weren't no food in that chest! I met a cockroach coming out of that chest with tears in his eyes."—Harpers Weekly.

A GOOD COLD.

"That seems a very bad cold you've got, my little man!"

"It's a very good cold; it's kept me away from school for two weeks now!"

COMPLAINTS ABOUT PAINT.

The time to complain about paint is before the painter applies it. The man who puts up the money should not shirk the responsibility of choosing the paint. True, the painter ought to know paint better than the banker, the professional man or the merchant. The trouble is, the houseowner too often deliberately bars the competent and honest painter from the job by accepting a bid which he ought to know would make an honest job impossible.

Economical Physician.

Ambassador Wu Ting-fang was once, it is alleged, telling about a certain selfish politician. He said: "The man reminds me of a doctor of Shanghai. A mandarin came to this doctor for advice. He could not sleep, had no appetite, suffered a good deal from depression and nevertheless was taking on fat at an alarming rate. 'Well soon put you in condition again,' said the physician. 'What you need is exercise, good, hard exercise. Four times a week you can come here and put in the morning polishing my floors.' 'But why not my own floors?' the mandarin inquired. 'Mine,' said the physician, 'are larger.'"

Judge George Gray, of Delaware, one of the possible Democratic candidates for the Presidency, in declining an offer of a salary of $200,000, declares that no one should receive a salary of more than that of the President, $50,000 a year.

It is expected that Secretary Taft will return from his visit to the Panama canal, recently undertaken at the instance of the President in order to deal with certain important questions under consideration there, on the eve of the Chicago convention

In speaking of the speech of Senator Jeff Davis delivered recently on the floor of the senate to the empty galleries and with an audience of but three senators, two of whom were discussing the political situation off in a corner and paying no heed to the pyrotechnics of the Arkansas Senator, a prominent politician in Washington rather wittily remarked that "A state whose capital is Little Rock seems perfectly symbolized and fittingly represented by such a small pebble on the beach at Washington."

There is a general and outspoken jealousy felt by the people of the western states because of the influence exerted in congress, and especially in the senate, by the states of the east, notably New England; and yet the western people have only themselves to blame. Eastern states, once they elect a man to the senate, for example, keep him there year after year and he grows in influence and power. Committee assignments, which in the upper house are appointed by seniority, fall to the member with long service in increasing importance and in that respect also the efficiency of the old member is increased. Western members, changing constantly, rarely attain to the best places. A striking instance in furnished by Oregon. Senator Fulton, after one term, in which he has shown marked ability, has just secured a place on the important committee on judiciary and now his state has decided to send another in his place. Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota has after nearly eighteen years service, just secured the chairmanship of the committee on agriculture, which is one of the few committees that handles an appropriation bill. He has, moreover, an important seat on finance and other desirable places which can be won only by years of service, yet, his state is seriously questioning the advisability of re-electing him and is compelling him to make a strenuous fight against opponents who for years, if successful, would be unable to render their state anything like equally valuable service.

Death and Tired Legs.

Alpine climbing, long walking tours and similar fatiguing recreations may be suitable enough for those who keep in training all the year round but are disastrous for those whose ordinary exercise consists of a short daily walk.

I have often thought that the reason of the many mountaineering accidents which we read of lies in the inability of the muscles of the legs to retain that steadiness and firmness which climbing demands and which are soon lost in the absence of strenuous practice or in those who have never followed the sport seriously—Cassell's Magazine.

The trouble with most cough cures is that they constipate. Kenney's Laxative Cough Syrup does not constipate, but on the other hand its laxative principles gently move the bowels. It is pleasant to take and and it is especially recommended for children, as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Sold by J. H. Swan.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr.
Kilmer's Swamp-Root,
the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

"Howlers" Better Than "Healers."
Rokitansky, the father of the well-known operatic singer, was professor of pathology at the Vienna university.
Besides the two singers he had another couple of sons, who had acquired a certain celebrity as medical men. One day, when the old professor was asked how his sons were getting on, he replied, shaking his head:
"You see, friends, two of them heal and the other two howl, and the howlers earn four times as much as the healers."

The World's Best Climate is not entirely free from disease, on the high elevations fevers prevail, while on the lower levels malaria is encountered to a greater or less extent, according to altitude.
To overcome climat affections lassitude, malaria, jaundice, biliousness, fever and ague, and general debility, the most effective remedy is Electric Bitters, the great alterative and blood purifier; the antidote for every form of bodily weakness, nervousness, and insomnia. Sold under guarantee at J. H. Swan's drug store. Price 50c.

Dene-Holes in England.
A large group of the singular excavations known as dene-holes was recently discovered in the forest between Woolwich and Erith. Their positions were indicated by cup-like de-pressions in the ground. Two of the holes have been explored. Each possesses a circular shaft about three feet in diameter, with holes in the sides, apparently intended for the support of ladders. The holes run down about 50 feet through earth, then pass through four or five feet of chalk, and expand into caverns 18 feet in height.
Each cavern has six chambers, grouped radially round the bottom of the central shaft. This is the ordinary arrangement found in dene-holes, which have been thought by archeologists to be secret receptacles for the storage of grain used about the time of the Roman occupation of Britain, or earlier.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative.
One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often slows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, lift, vigor, and ambition.
Try it and be convinced. Sold by J. H.

A telegram was received here on Tuesday morning by Charles Morefield, who was visiting at this place, that Eugene Smith, eldest son of Frank Smith, of Milford, Nebraska, was found hanging in the barn early Tuesday morning. As will be remembered Eugene is the one who discovered his mother, lying murdered on floor of the kitchen a little over four months ago, and it is probable that the boy unnered by the discovery and continual worrying over the unfortunate affair had become mentally unbalanced and in a fit of despondency had ended his own life by hanging. No trace of the murderer of Mrs. Smith was ever found, and the motive for the deed still remains a complete mystery. This second tragedy occurring in the same household in so short a space of time is indeed a sad blow to the family. Mr. Morefield is a cousin of the unfortunate lad and lives near the Smith home in Nebraska. A little over a week ago he was called to Rockford to attend the funeral of a brother, from there he went to Freeport to visit another brother, and from that place came on to Antioch where he visited with relatives and friends since Friday last. It was his intention to remain in this vicinity for week or so, but immediately upon the receipt of the telegram he left for his home in the west. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith were formerly residents of this vicinity, and still have many friends and relatives residing here. This morning one of the family summoned us by phone and informed us that in the account of the matter as printed in a local paper it is stated that the unfortunate boy was a brother to Chas. Smith of Channel, which statement it is their desire to have corrected, as Chas. Smith is in no way whatever related to the family in question. Charles Smith, has a brother Eugene, whose home is at Atchison, Kansas, but although the two families bear the same name they are in no way related.

Mr. John Riha of Vining, Ia., says, "I have been selling DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder pills, for about a year and they give better satisfaction than any pill I ever sold. There are a dozen people here who have used them and they give perfect satisfaction in every case. I have used them myself with fine results." Sold by J. H. Swan.

The Principal Thing. "My, the way you theatrical people travel from place to place!" exclaimed the unsophisticated person, "I should think it would take a great deal of endurance to be an actor." "Oh," replied Stormer Barnes, absent-mindedly, "long practice has made it possible for me to get along with—very little food."

A great many people imagine they have heart trouble when the fact is that the whole trouble lies in the stomach. The pains in the side around the region of the heart are not necessarily heart trouble. We suggest that you start with the stomach and whenever you feel a depression after eating or whenever your food seems to nauseate take Kodol. It will not be very long until all these "heart pains" will disappear. Take Kodol now and until you know you are right again. There isn't any doubt about what it will do and you will find the truth of the statement verified after you have used Kodol for a few weeks. It is sold here by J. H. Swan.

DIPLOMACY SURELY HIS LINE.

Bridegroom Knew the Value of a Few Honeyed Words.

They sat in the express, billing and cooing. Now and again they would shake themselves like damp dogs and tiny particles of rice would scatter on the carpet.

"Sweetheart," said the bridegroom at length, speaking in tender but manly tones—"sweetheart, would you mind if I went into the 'smoker' for a bit?" She pouted.

"What?" she exclaimed. "To smoke, love?"

He cast up his hands. "Oh, no, no, no!" he assured her. "I may smoke, but that is not why I wish to leave you. I only want to suffer for a brief space the agony of absence from your side so that I may subsequently experience the intense joy of my return."

She smiled sweetly and watched him depart with a pale-purple loveletter in her eye. And he, as he lit the cigar he had been longing for during the last two hours, smiled profoundly and wondered why he was not in the diplomatic service.—Tatler.

The Shanghai Judgeship.

Just judges are appreciated in Shanghai, and, indeed, the need of their being men of fearless integrity may be said to increase with the square of the distance from home, since here there are many judges and possibilities and facilities of appeal, while in remote places all may depend upon the decision of a single judge. Let it be known that the American judge at Shanghai does strict and impartial justice, regardless of fear or favor, and that he is supported in so doing by the government at Washington, and every honest American sojourning in those parts will feel more secure and will take greater pride in his citizenship before the world.—New York Tribune.

There is a Pink Pain Tablet made by Dr. Shoop, that will positively stop any pain, anywhere, in 20 minutes. Druggists everywhere sell them as Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets, but they stop other pains as easily as headache. Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablet simply coars blood pressure away from pain centers—that is all. Pain comes from blood pressure—congestion. Stop that pressure with Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets and pain is instantly gone. 20 Tablet 25c. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Trap for the Piano Tuner.

"No, now don't you take that piece of camolais," said the man at the desk, as the hand of the woman wandered in its direction. "I know it's a nice looking piece, but I bought it specially for a purpose. I telephoned the man to come to-morrow and tune my piano. In the morning before I come down here I'm going to lay this piece of camolais across the keys. Then when I get home I'll know whether he has tuned it or not. If it's gone, he has; if it's still on the keys, he hasn't."

It Reached the spot.

Mr. E. Humphrey, who owns a large general store at Omega, O., and is president of the Adams County Telephone Co., as well as of the Home Telephone Co., of Pike County, O., says of Dr. King's New Discovery: "It saved my life once. At least I think it did. It seemed to reach the spot—the very seat of my cough, when everything else failed." Dr. King's New Discovery not only reaches the cough spot; it heals the sore spots and the weak spots in throat, lungs and chest. Sold under guarantee at J. H. Swan's drug store. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The Life Earnest.

High hearts are never long without hearing some new call, some distant clarion of God, even in their dreams; and soon they are observed to break up the camp of ease and start on some fresh march of faithful service. And, looking higher still, we find those who never wait till their moral work accumulates, and who reward resolution with no rest; with whom, therefore, the alternation is instantaneous and constant; who do the good only to see the better, and see the better only to achieve it; who are too meek for transport, too faithful for remorse, too earnest for repose; whose worship is action, and whose action ceaseless aspiration.—J. Martineau.

Insist upon DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. There are substitutes, but there is only one original. It is healing, soothing and cooling and is especially good for piles. Sold by J. H. Swan.

His License for Being Born.

"As I was about to enter one of the schools the other morning," said Dr. Luther H. Gulick, the Superintendent of physical training in the New York schools, "I met a little chap who was crying bitterly. After a lot of questioning to learn the cause of his distress he informed me. 'The principal won't let me go to school. He sent me home because I forgot to bring my license for being born.'"

Weak women should read my "Book No. 4 For Women". It was written expressly for women who are not well. The Book No. 4 tells of Dr. Shoop's Night Cure "and just how these soothing, healing, antiseptic suppositories can be successfully applied. The book, and strictly confidential medical advice is entirely free. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Night Cure is sold by J. H. Swan.

VICTIMS NOW TEN

ONE MORE BODY DUG UP IN MRS. GUINNESS' BARNYARD.

PROBABLY WAS A WOMAN

Witness Found Whose Story Tends to Prove Lamphere Knew of Crimes and Tried Blackmail.

Laporte, Ind.—One more body was added to the death roll of the Guinness farm Friday, the gruesome relics now numbering ten.

Coroner Mack at first announced that the grave opened in the morning contained one complete cadaver and portions of a second, but in the evening said that what he had at first believed to be additional thigh and arm bones are in reality pieces of the first set.

Developments of the Day. Other important developments of the day included the following:

Peter Colson, a new witness in the case, told R. N. Smith, the prosecuting attorney, that Ray Lamphere had acknowledged attempts to blackmail Mrs. Guinness. This is considered as definitely establishing a motive for a disagreement between Lamphere and the woman which resulted later in the burning of the farmhouse.

Mrs. Leo Greening said that her son Emil, who formerly worked on the notorious farm, saw two strangers at the place the night that Jennie Olsen disappeared in November, 1906. Emil Greening is now in Oklahoma City, and the sheriff's office will try to communicate with him in the hope of establishing the fact that Mrs. Guinness had accomplices in the murders at her place.

Finding of One More Victim.

The resumption of excavation at the farm again drew an immense crowd of spectators. The rush of visitors has become so great that some of the local liverymen have established a regular "bus" line from the downtown district to the farm.

The premature announcement by Coroner Mack that two bodies had been discovered only served to increase the rush of curiosity-seekers. The scraps of humanity were found in the barnyard which had already given up nine cadavers. About four feet below the surface, the excavators encountered bits of bone and burlap and a few strokes more of the spades and hoes revealed the skull, a decomposed torso and leg and arm bones.

Less Skillfully Disembowered.

The body was by far the least preserved of any of the ten gruesome relics. In addition to the usual traces of lime, the evidences were that a less skillful hand had accomplished the dismemberment of this corpse. The legs had been, as usual, severed above the knee joint, but the bones were splintered and the shoulder blade shattered. The skull had been separated and was lying near the feet. It was thought that the body was that of a woman, as a pair of woman's oxford shoes and the metal frame of a woman's purse were found in the grave.

Picnic for the Morbid.

Laporte, Ind.—All roads in Laporte county led to the Guinness farm Sunday, upwards of 15,000 sight-seers visiting the place of death. Practically every able-bodied resident of this city made the trip, and the railroads and trolley lines brought about 4,000 more to the city.

Mayor Darrow found it necessary to issue stringent orders that the Sunday closing laws should be enforced, and the hotels and restaurants were overrun with patrons. Practically every conveyance in the town was pressed into service in an attempt to provide transportation for the crowds. In the afternoon these proved insufficient and late-comers were forced to make their way to the place on foot.

Horrible Epidemic in Kiev Prison. Kiev, Russia.—A frightful epidemic of exanthematic typhoid is raging in the city prison. More than 200 deaths have occurred and practically all of the inmates are infected. The authorities are withholding details.

Bad Fire in a Detroit Store.

Detroit, Mich.—Fire Sunday gutted the three upper floors of the six-story department store of Goldberg Bros. on Woodward avenue, causing a loss of $150,000, on which there was $100,000 insurance.

METCALF REVIEWS FLEETS

ADMIRAL EVANS UNABLE TO PARTICIPATE IN CEREMONY.

Formally Relinquishes Command of Fighting Vessels and Departs for Washington.

San Francisco.—The combined Atlantic and Pacific fleets of battleships, armored cruisers, torpedo boat destroyers and auxiliaries, aggregating in weight of displacement the enormous total of more than 400,000 tons, were reviewed in picturesque San Francisco harbor Friday by Secretary of the Navy Metcalf.

The 44 vessels of the two fleets lay at anchor in four long columns and, proceeding from the Oakland shore, the secretary on board the little gunboat Yorktown—a reminder of the days when the navy was in its infancy—proceeded southward through the lines formed by the armored cruisers of the Pacific fleet, nearest the Oakland shore, and the second squadron of the Atlantic fleet, headed by the Minnesota. Turning back to the north at the end of these two lines, the Yorktown traversed the lane formed on the starboard by the battleships of the First Atlantic squadron and on the port by the little destroyers.

Rear Admiral Evans, who had hoped to end his active naval career by participating in the official ceremonies, was not permitted by his attending physician to go aboard the Connecticut. Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas was again the senior officer. Admiral Evans formally relinquished command of the fleet Saturday and left for Washington.

The afternoon was marked by the presentation of silver services to the battleship Nebraska and the armored cruiser California, from the states after which the ships were named. Gov. Sheldon of Nebraska and Gov. Gillett of California personally made the presentation speeches.

At night in the St. Francis hotel the official dinner of welcome by the city of San Francisco was presided over by Mayor Edward R. Taylor. All the flag and commanding officers of the fleet were present. At a later hour and attended by all the higher officers and a host of the younger men, came the dance of the Friday Night club at the Fairmont hotel.

PRINCE EULENBURG ARRESTED.

Once a Confidential Friend of the Kaiser—His Ruin Predicted.

Berlin.—Prince Philip, Zu Eulenburg, was Friday placed under actual arrest. The crown prosecutor took this step as a result of the testimony given by two men at the prince's bedside on the effect that Prince Zu Eulenburg had been guilty of wrongful actions with them 15 years ago. Prince Zu Eulenburg was involved in the court scandal in Berlin that grew out of the charges brought by Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft last summer. At the second Eulenburg trial the court declared that all the charges made by Harden were absolutely without foundation. The prince was taken into custody at his castle at Liebenberg and brought in an ambulance automobile 40 miles to the charity hospital, where he was detained pending a further investigation of a charge of perjury made against him. The prince's arrest is taken to mean the irretrievable ruin of this brilliant man who was at one time a confidential friend of the emperor.

SHOOTS AT HUSBAND ON STAGE.

Alligator Tamer's Wife Causes Sensation in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn.—During a performance at the Majestic theater, a vaudeville house, Saturday night, Mrs. Bert Swan, who occupied a box, fired six shots at her husband, an alligator tamer, while he was on the stage. None of the shots took effect.

Mr. Swan left the stage, a blank curtain was hung down under pretense of showing moving pictures, and a panic was thus averted.

After she had been arrested Mrs. Swan said that she did not intend to kill her husband, but merely shot at the scenery. She refused to discuss her alleged troubles with her husband. Mrs. Swan will accompany her husband to New York.

Harmon for Ohio Governor.

Columbus, O.—In a tumultuous convention characterized by the most intense factional feeling, the Democrats of Ohio Wednesday nominated Judson Harmon of Cincinnati, attorney general of the United States under President Cleveland, for governor and endorsed William Jennings Bryan, and instructed the delegates-at-large to the national convention to vote for him for president.

Journalist Dies at Sea.

SECRETARY TAFT ADJUSTING DISPUTES AT PANAMA.

Tentative Accord Reached in Boundary Question with Colombia and Other Important Matters.

Panama.—Ever since his arrival here, Secretary Taft has been busy holding conferences with President Amador, Foreign Secretary Arias, Senor Arango, the Panamanian minister to the United States, Mr. Solares, the American minister to Panama, and William Nelson Cromwell, the legal adviser of the Panama Canal company. The conferences were concluded Sunday. They covered numerous topics relating to the treaties which it is desired to negotiate between Colombia, the United States and Panama.

While details are lacking, it is stated that a tentative accord has been reached upon important points, and that decision with reference to the others only awaits special inquiries now in progress. The result of the conferences, it is announced, is satisfactory to all parties concerned.

Colombia's recent seizure of the town of Jaramo on the frontier involved in the general boundary question between the two countries, has been fully considered. The Panamanian government has agreed to the suggestion made by Mr. Taft to withhold all action until the secretary of war has had an opportunity personally to confer with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Root.

One of the most important questions affecting the canal zone has been to determine the titles of individual occupants of lands in the zone and the valuation of lands appropriated for canal uses. Until now adjustment had been impossible, but a solution has been reached by which an arbitration tribunal will be constituted under the existing treaty. This tribunal will have the power to determine all questions as to valuations and legal titles. It will be composed of two citizens of the United States and two citizens of Panama, with Gov. Magoon of Cuba as umpire.

LEVEE BREAKS AT VINCENNES.

Preparations Are Being Made for a Serious Flood.

Vincennes, Ind.—Friday night at eight o'clock the Wabash river was 18.8 feet, the rise being at the rate of an inch an hour. The levee broke in two places, flooding thousands of acres and threatening the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern tracks three miles west. The second break in the levee occurred on the Indiana side, five miles south of here. Two mills closed and preparations are being made to fight the biggest flood in the history of this section.

Flood at East Alton.

East Alton, Ill.—Wood river broke through its banks, after rising four feet in four hours Wednesday afternoon, and half of East Alton is under water. The tracks of the Chicago & Alton, Big Four and the McKinley interurban line are overflowed, and traffic temporarily is suspended. Two big factories have been forced to shut down because of the high water, which covers an area five miles long and a mile wide. Many families were forced to vacate their homes.

Express Messenger Murdered.

Denver, Col.—Train robbers, who boarded Denver & Rio Grande train No. 4 at Castle Rock Thursday, murdered Express Messenger Charles H. Wright, aged 60, employed by the Globe Express company.

From the dead messenger the robbers took the keys to a small safe in the baggage car, which they opened and took the contents, in all worth less than $100.

Narrow Escape of Fast Train.

Washington, Pa.—The passing of a shifting engine, which the would-be train-wreckers had not counted upon, undoubtedly averted serious disaster to the east-bound flyer from St. Louis to Pittsburg on the Pennsylvania railroad of the Pennsylvania system between here and McDonald late Saturday night. An obstruction was placed on the tracks in such manner that nothing could have saved the fast train had it not been discovered. The switching engine ran into the obstruction and was derailed.

WORK IS NEARLY DONE.

Congress Will Be Ready to Adjourn May 25.

Washington.—The supply bills of congress, in which appropriations are to be made for the support of the government for the next fiscal year, beginning on July 1, are in such condition in both houses that if no complications arise in connection with other legislation, it will be possible to reach a final adjournment by May 25.

There are 14 of these general measures, carrying an aggregate of almost a billion dollars, and of these the house of representatives, in which all of them originate, has passed 12, all but the military academy and the general deficiency bill. Both of these carry comparatively small sums, both are of such character that they seldom arouse opposition, and both could be disposed of in very brief order if necessary. The academy bill will be reported to the house early this week and the deficiency bill not later than Thursday.

The senate is not so well along as it could be on account of the fact that that body must necessarily take up the bills after they have been considered and passed upon by the house. The senate is, however, unusually close upon the heels of the lower body and in addition to the deficiency and academy bills, has left only the post office and the sundry civil bills. These, however, are two of the largest of the appropriation bills, carrying as they do between them about one-third of the aggregate appropriation made for the session. Both unquestionably will arouse much discussion in the senate and it is probable that the greater part of the time for the next two weeks will be given for their consideration.

CHESTER PUPILS STRIKE.

Teachers Forced to Apologize for Riding on Street Cars.

Chester, Pa.—As a manifestation of the bitterness with which many people regard the Chester Traction company and the men who took the places of the motormen and conductors when they went on a strike several weeks ago, this city Friday witnessed a sympathetic strike of the pupils of the Morton avenue school because two teachers, Miss Anderson and Miss MacFarland, rode on the trolley cars manned by strike-breakers. When the pupils learned that the teachers had ridden on the cars they refused to attend the sessions.

As a climax to the incident mothers of the children went before the school board and demanded the removal of the teachers. The parents were promised that the teachers would make an apology to the children on Monday and also make a public apology through the columns of the local newspapers.

GREAT FIRE IN ATLANTA.

Two Business Blocks Destroyed, the Loss Being $1,250,000.

Atlanta, Ga.—One million and a quarter dollars is the loss, conservatively estimated, of a fire which started at 3:30 o'clock Friday morning and swept two blocks of Atlanta business property.

By night the fire was under control with ruined buildings in the district bounded by Forsythe, Nelson, Madison and Hunter streets. Late in the day the police and fire departments dynamited what was left of the ragged walls.

Several vehicles were overturned on Eads bridge where the full force of the gale was encountered as it swept up the Mississippi river. Part of the slate roof of the old Four Courts building was blown off, creating a brief panic in the circuit courtroom. A tenement house on Eugenia street, occupied by six families, was blown down. One woman was badly injured and the six families were rendered homeless.

TEMPLE OF FRIENDSHIP BEGUN.

President Lays Corner-Stone of Home for Union of Republics.

Washington.—Under splendid auspices of patronage and beautiful spring weather, the corner-stone was laid by the president Monday of the proposed home for the International Union of American Republics, or as Secretary Root aptly called it, "a temple dedicated to international friendship."

Three thousand persons, including representatives of political, official and social life in Washington and who occupied seats on the stands composing a great quadrangle, were interested spectators of the ceremony. Flags and colors of 21 American republics floated in the breeze over the grandstands, while the coats of arms of these countries were displayed at many places about the stands. Over the speakers' portion of the president's stand were the colors of the United States and Brazil, the latter in honor of Ambassador Nabuco.

On the president's stand were seated the cabinet, the supreme court, the diplomatic corps and members of the senate and house. John Barrett, the director of the bureau, introduced Secretary Root as the presiding officer.

Waller was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Frank Cheney and Chief of Police Spears at the cemetery at a late hour at night and brought to Pana. Traffic Suspended and Factories Are Temporarily Shut Down.

East Alton.—Wood river broke through its banks, after rising four feet in four hours the other afternoon, and half of East Alton was under water. The tracks of the Chicago & Alton, Big Four and the McKinley interurban line were overflowed, and traffic temporarily suspended. Two big factories were forced to shut down because of the high water, which covered an area of five miles long and a mile wide. Many families were forced to vacate their homes.

Electric Currents Damage Trees. Nashville.—Horticulturists throughout Washington county, who have been puzzled at the damage inflicted upon their trees during the past several weeks, have had the matter explained to them by Col. J. W. Stanton of Richview, treasurer of the Illinois Horticultural society. Col. Stanton states that the peculiar phenomena is traceable to electrical currents that have prevailed during the recent storms in this section.

Wan' Option Election Invalidated.

Emmingsham.—A petition has been filed in the county court asking that the recent election, in which the city of Emmingsham went dry, be declared invalid and of no effect, alleging that City Clerk Charles E. Prather improperly and contrary to law caused the proposition to be printed on the ballots, because the petition, as they claim, did not comply with the requirements of the new local option law.

To Install Fire Escapes.

Medora.—Acting under the requirements of the state law, the board of education of the Medora public schools will immediately equip the school building, a two-story brick structure, with fire escapes and a fire alarm system. The building has but one exit, which is from a wide stairway. The board will also require all scholars to participate in a fire drill weekly.

Suit Over Church Property.

Lincoln.—A suit of state-wide significance was instituted in this city. The Cumberland Presbyterian church brought suit in ejectment to oust the Presbyterians from the old Cumberland property in this city. The residents were greatly stirred over the case and the outcome was awaited with intense interest.

May Donate Salaries.

Clinton.—The officials of the city of Clinton, from the mayor down, may donate their salaries for the ensuing year to the city treasury to prevent any deficiency in the finances that might occur as the result of the loss of the revenue derived from the saloons, according to a rumor here.

Shut Doors in Advance.

Paris.—Bargains in liquid refreshments prevailed here and hilarity at small pecuniary cost marked the passing of Paris' 20 saloons. The city went "dry" at the recent local option election and the new order of things became effective several days in advance.

New Pastor Is Called.

Medora.—The congregation of the First Baptist church of this city has extended a call to Rev. O. E. Carmean of Rockbridge to become its pastor. Rev. Mr. Carmean is pastor of the First Baptist church at Rockbridge.

Three Saloons for Pakmer.

Palmer.—It was expected that three persons would apply for saloon licenses at the meeting of the village board. In past but one saloon has been operated here. Palmer is now the only wet spot in Christian county.

Coal Vein Found at Carlyle.

Carlyle.—The contractors have finished their work drilling for coal near Bartleson, seven miles southwest of this city. The exact thickness is being kept a secret. Arrangements are being made to sink a mine.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Plant a tree on arbor day.

Keep the lambs growing from the start.

The safe bull is the one you want to look out for.

The lambs should have free access to salt, also good clean water.

Trouble with some people is that they have more wishbone than backbone.

To keep the rats and mice from gnawing harness rub a little castor oil over it.

If you did not cut out the borers from the peach, quince or apple trees last summer, do it now.

A simple form of filter for the elctern can be provided by building a partition of porous brick through the elctern.

Funny how the cattle seem to find the weak place in the fence every time. One weak spot may make a mile of fencing useless.

If the horse has not shed off its winter coat and shows lack of thrift he should be clipped before being set to work in the field.

The man who has learned how to grow good crops in dry weather has laid hold of one of the secrets that will help him to make money.

When planting a new orchard place the later and harder sorts on the outside rows, as that is where the frosts first strike and are the severest.

One load of manure finely and evenly spread is worth two spread unevenly in the lumps. This is another good argument in favor of the manure spreader.

A mortgage, like a porous plaster, is a good thing if properly placed, but remember, it is easier put on than taken off, and the latter process is apt to be painful as well.

Start with the breed you think you want and then stick to it. The stock raiser who shifts every few years to a new breed never gets anywhere in his operations, except nearer to the poor house, perhaps.

It is mixed farming which brings the surest results. Special crops in favorable seasons may net larger profit, but when the losses of bad years are deducted, the balance of the account will be found to favor mixed farming.

You get sick sometimes through carelessness and injudicious living, and then you take steps to get into condition again. How about your soil? Have your methods put it out of condition? and are you doing nothing to restore it to its old time vigor and productiveness? What folly.

Shingle your turkeys and keep them from flying off. The method adopted by one turkey raiser is to bore four holes in a shingle and through these holes pass strong tape under the wings close up to the body. Tie the ends of the tape securely. Sounds easy, but would the turkeys thrive and grow under the restraint?

The old farmers of a generation or so back used to plant their corn when the white oak leaves were as large as squirrel's ears, and it is said they raised good corn, too. This suggests that the farmer of the old days was a closer student of nature, carrying out the farm program in closer harmony with the season's development than does the farmer of to-day.

The method pursued on a big strawberry farm in Michigan is to grow on the land first a big crop of field or cowpeas. This is rolled down in the fall, covered with about 18 tons per acre of stockyard manure and plowed under. The land is plowed again in spring and worked until it is as fine as an ash heap. This land is then ready to receive the young strawberry plants.

When it comes to making repairs and one finds that because of lack of tool house and work room the tools are scattered through the house and barn and other buildings one realizes how fine it would be to have such a work room. Don't say you cannot afford the extra building. Such place will prove true economy in the end. It will not only bring all your tools together where they will be handy to use, but it will economize upon your time in making needed repairs. And then one can work in such a place on stormy days.

Plan your work and then work your plan.

The waste places on the farm should be put to work.

Trust the bull by putting a ring in his nose and keeping in a safe place.

A few cows on the farm is full warrant for the purchase of a separator.

The dairy cow which is fat and at the same time good is the exception to the rule.

Roller oats, stale bread, corn-bread, cheese curd, wheat and table scraps make good feed for little chicks.

Five points to remember if you would have a productive orchard: Fertilize, cultivate, spray, thin, prune.

The hair of the horse that has been well fed from birth is as a rule finer and softer than that of the horse not so fed.

After the breeding season is over separate the roosters from the hens. Better for both sexes and the eggs will keep better.

A better living can be made by careful, thorough cultivation of 20 acres than from five times that amount of land poorly managed.

The best way to market your crops is on the hoof. Feed to your stock, keep the fertility on the farm and drive your stock to market.

Grow enough fruit for your own use. Not a bad idea to have some to sell. These little extras from the farm can be made to aggregate quite a sum.

After all the pig has more wisdom than some people. He is content to stay in the pig class while many a human wastes life in trying to seem what he is not.

No wonder the poultry business is growing each year. There are more than 5,000 poultry shows held annually in the United States and Canada. Surely the hen is the American bird.

Don't cut off your farm reading because the busy season is on. The rush season on the farm is just the time to test out new ideas in a practical way. Get other people's ideas and set them to work for you.

Here is the method of one dairyman who believes in the economy of arrangements. He has a small pasture handy to the dairy barn in which the cows may be kept at night, where they may feed and where they are ready for milking in the morning.

The nut growing industry has been revolutionized in the past few years. It is now well established in various localities upon a scientific and sound commercial basis. When followed in the light of recent experience, it opens for the farmer or capitalist a most inviting field.

The four points are made in favor of the portable hog house as follows: It is easily and economically constructed; it can be easily moved and located wherever desired; it is useful both to the general farmer and to the breeder of pure bred stock, and of all systems for housing swine it is the most natural and sanitary.

The rule observed by a successful hog raiser in selecting the brood sows is to pick the long-bodied ones that are rather coarse and long legged. They make the best breeders and have better constitutions than the small ones. By selecting a male that has good quality you can get larger hams and shoulders from the pigs of a large sow than from a small one.

Not now but soon the farmer will find it practicable to make his own alcohol. Secretary Wilson has taken up the study of the problem in a practical way and will set up a small plant in one of the buildings of the department of agriculture and experiment on making alcohol out of decayed fruit, corn, potatoes, etc. After the department has worked this out satisfactorily it would be a good plan for the experiment stations in the different states to install similar plants. It will also be an excellent plan if the department or some of the members of the agricultural college faculties would have such a plant in practical operation during the different short courses held at the agricultural colleges and at different points throughout the states, and at the various state fairs.

As the result of experiments, the Massachusetts station has demonstrated that for some crops sulphate of potash is the best sort, while for others muriate of potash is superior. The yield of asparagus where the muriate was used was more than 50 per cent. greater than on the sulphate, but with rhubarb the yield of sulphate was 80 per cent. greater the past year than on muriate. For raspberries and blackberries the sulphate has invariably given better results than the muriate. Particularly noticeable has been the difference in the degree of winter-killing. The canes from the plot on which muriate of potash was applied seem to have been less hardy than those where sulphate was used. Sulphate of potash also gave best results with potatoes and with soy beans. With hay, however, there was little difference between the two forms, although sulphate seems to give the best results where clover is used.

What is Pe-ru-na?

Is it a Catarrh Remedy, or a Tonic, or is it Both?

Some people call Peruna a great tonic. Others refer to Peruna as a great catarrh remedy.

Which of these people are right? Is it more proper to call Peruna a catarrh remedy than to call it a tonic?

Our reply is, that Peruna is both a tonic and a catarrh remedy. Indeed, there can be no effectual catarrh remedy that is not also a tonic.

In order to thoroughly relieve any case of catarrh, a remedy must not only have a specific action on the mucous membranes affected by the catarrh, but it must have a general tonic action on the nervous system.

Catarrh, even in persons who are otherwise strong, is a weakened condition of some mucous membrane. There must be something to strengthen the circulation, to give tone to the arteries, and to raise the vital forces.

Perhaps no vegetable remedy in the world has attracted so much attention from medical writers as HYDRASTIS CANADENSIS. The wonderful efficacy of this herb has been recognized many years, and is growing in its hold upon the medical profession. When joined with CUBEBS and COPAIBA a trio of medical agents is formed in Peruna which constitutes a specific remedy for catarrh that in the present state of medical progress cannot be improved upon. This action, reinforced by such renowned tonics as COLLINSIA CANADENSIS, CORYDALIS FORMOSA and CEDRON SEED, ought to make this compound an ideal remedy for catarrh in all its stages and locations in the body.

From a theoretical standpoint, therefore, Peruna is beyond criticism. The use of Peruna, confirms this opinion. Numberless testimonials from every quarter of the earth furnish ample evidence that this judgment is not over enthusiastic. When practical experience confirms a well-grounded theory the result is a truth that cannot be shaken.

By His "Pliers."

Much feeling has been introduced into a by-election for a councillor at a Lancashire seaside resort, says London Tit-Bits. The gentleman who engenders much of this controversy was formerly on the council, and was mainly instrumental in inducing his colleagues to spend huge sums of money in the erection of two large but badly constructed piers. At a meeting the other night one of his opponents had permission to propose an amendment, and after virulently abusing the candidate exclaimed: "I have tried him in the balance, and I have found him wanting." Whereupon a member of the audience shouted out: "Try him again, then. Try him by his pliers."

The Waist Came Back.

"The other day I hung my prettiest waist out on the line at the kitchen window," said the flat-dweller, "after I washed it. Then I forgot all about it, and when I went to look for it two days later it was gone. I rushed frantically down to the janitress, and we climbed together over the coal into the area to look for the waist. I lamented deeply. It was a beautiful waist. We couldn't find it. The janitor came from the next house and helped us look, but there was nothing doing. I came sadly in at the window back over the coal and ascended to my sixth-story flat.

"The next day I looked in the drawer of my chiffonier and found the waist there. Say anything to the janitress? Well, I reckon not."

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.

WHITE DEER WAS STONE DEAF.

Remarkable Animal Encountered by Hunters in the Woods of Maine.

Speaking of blindness, deafness and dumbness among cats and dogs, Dr. H. D. Gill, veterinary surgeon and horseman, told incidentally of a remarkable wild animal, a deer, that was once encountered by two friends of his who were hunting near Moose-head lake in Maine.

Out with a guide, the hunters came to a spot from which they could see within shooting distance four deer grazing, one of the four being white, an albino. The hunters fired and shot two of the deer of natural color, the third one at the report of the guns springing away to safety, while the white deer remained stock still.

The wind was toward the hunters and they had not been heard or scented, and apparently the white deer had not heard the guns. But in a moment it turned its head and then it bounded away after the other surviving deer.

It seemed clear to guide and hunters that the white deer was stone deaf.

Artificial Gems.

Last year a German association caused surprise to some scientists and disbelieved in others by the announcement that a process had been discovered by which most of the precious stones could be produced by artificial means.

Recently several official experts have made an examination of about 40 of these artificial gems. In their report to the Museum of Natural History they say:

"Of all the stones we examined, we can only call the artificial rubies a direct success, but the imitation of this species is no new invention. We therefore declare that there is nothing new or sensational in the new invention."

First Aid to Farmers.

A farmer in Ohio wrote to the department of agriculture that he had struggled for 20 years on an 80-acre farm heavily mortgaged but had been unable to reduce his debt or rise above a poverty that made the bringing up of his family a humiliation.

He asked if there was any hope for him upon the farm or if he might as well give up the fight. The department requested that he make a detailed report of his farm and its soils and upon this it based a plan of farming which he was recommended to follow to the letter. According to a writer in the World To-Day, there was a profit the first year of $2,000, and the department believes that ultimately the despised 80 acres can be made to yield $5,000 a year.
